- Sarfaraz Khan took the title of Alam-ud—daula Haider Jung.

- Alivardi Khan nominated Siraj-ud-daula as his successor.
- Siraj-ud-daula prohibited the English from fortifying their factories at Calcutta, which led to the Battle of Plassey in 1757.
- Mir Qasim granted Zamindari of Burdman, Midnapore and Chittagong to the British.
- Mir Jafar granted the right to free trade in Bengal, Bihar, and Orissa and the Zamindar of 24 Parganas to the British. He is aka the Jackal of Clive.

- Najm-ud-daula was the son of Mir Jafar and made Nawab British puppet ruler during the period of 'Dual System of Government'.

Black Hole Tragedy (1756)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Siraj-ud-daula sieged Fort William. • 146 British people were compelled to surrender. • Stuffed for a night in a room of 18 square feet, with only two windows, and 123 people (Including natives) suffocated to death. • Clive relieved Calcutta survivors & recovered the city on January 2, 1757 • An indecisive engagement led to a treaty with Sirāj ud-Daula on February 9, which restored the company's privileges.
---------------------------	--

Battle of Plassey (1757)

- Clive forged a secret alliance with the traitors of the nawab—Mir Jafar, Rai Durlabh, Jagat Seth (an influential banker of Bengal) and Omi Chand.
- On 23 June 1757, the armies of Siraj-ud-Daulah and the EIC met at Plassey.
- Mir Jafar, the Commander in Chief of the Siraj-udDaulah, did not participate in the battle.
- Jagat Seth, the most prosperous banker of Bengal, also refused to help the Siraj-udDaulah
- Siraj-ud-Daulah was defeated, imprisoned and later killed.
- The British made Mir Jafar the Nawab of Bengal.
- After Plassey, the English virtually monopolised the trade and commerce of Bengal.

Battle of Buxar (1764)

- Mir Qasim tried to free himself from British control.
- He dismissed the British officials and hired European experts to train his army.
- He abolished all duties on internal trade and made Indian and British merchants trade on equal terms.
- The British decided to depose Mir Qasim.
- Mir Qasim fled to Awadh and allied with Shuja-ud-Daulah, the Nawab of Awadh and Shah Alam II, the Mughal Emperor.
- Combined armies that met the British forces at Buxar on 22 October 1764 were defeated by the English forces under Major Hector Munro.
- Mir Jafar was made the nawab.
- English were permitted duty-free trade in Bengal, except for a duty of 2% on salt.
- Treaty of Allahabad was signed with Shuja-ud-Daula and Shah Alam II

Dual Government in Bengal (1765-72)

- Robert Clive introduced the dual system of government in Bengal, i.e., rule of the two—the Company and the Nawab in which the Diwani, i.e. collecting revenues, and nizamat, i.e. Police and judicial functions, came under the control of the Company.
- Nawab was responsible for maintaining peace and order
- Warren Hastings did away with the dual system in 1772.

Mysore

Anglo-Mysore Wars

First Anglo-Mysore War (1767-69)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nizam + Marathas + English vs Haidar Ali. • Haider paid the Marathas to turn them neutral and converted the Nizam into his ally against Nawab of Arcot. • English concluded treaty with Haidar on April 4, 1769—Treaty of Madras. Treaty of Madras <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Haidar Ali was promised the help of the English in case he was attacked by any other power.
Second Anglo-Mysore War (1780-84)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In 1771, Haidar was attacked by the Marathas and the English failed to come to his aid. • Haidar Ali accused the English of breaching the Treaty of Madras. • American war of independence had broken out in which the French were against the English. • Haidar forged an anti-English alliance with the Marathas and the Nizam. • English (under Sir Eyre Coote) detached both the Marathas and the Nizam from Haidar's side. • Haidar lost at Porto Novo in November 1781. Treaty of Mangalore <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Haidar Ali died of cancer and his son, Tipu Sultan carried on the war for one year.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Signed the Treaty of Mangalore (March, 1784). Under which each party gave back the territories it had taken from the other.
Third Anglo-Mysore War (1790-92)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> In 1790, Tipu declared war against Travancore for the restoration of his rights. The English, siding with Travancore, attacked Tipu. In 1790, Tipu defeated the English under General Meadows. In 1791, Cornwallis marched to Seringapatam. With the support of the Marathas and the Nizam, the English attacked Seringapatam. Tipu lost and signed the Treaty of Seringapatam. Treaty of Seringapatam <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Nearly half of the Mysorean territory was taken over by the victors. Baramahal, Dindigul and Malabar went to the English. Marathas got the regions surrounding the Tungabhadra and its tributaries. Nizam acquired the areas from Krishna to beyond the Pennar. A war damage of three crore rupees was also taken from Tipu. Tipu's two sons were taken as hostages by the English.
Fourth Anglo-Mysore War (1798-99)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Tipu fulfilled all terms of the Treaty of Seringapatam and released his sons. In 1796, the Hindu ruler of the Wodeyar dynasty died, and Tipu declared himself sultan. In 1798, Lord Wellesley succeeded Sir John Shore as the new Governor General, concerned about Tipu's growing friendship with the French. Wellesley aimed at annihilating Tipu's independence through the system of Subsidiary Alliance. War began on April 17, 1799, and ended on May 4, 1799, with the fall of Seringapatam. Tipu was defeated first by English General Stuart and then by General Harris. The English was again helped by the Marathas and the Nizam. Tipu died English throned a boy from earlier Hindu royal family of Mysore as the maharaja and also imposed on him the subsidiary alliance system.

Mysore after Tipu Sultan

- Wellesley offered the Soonda and Harponelly districts of Mysore Kingdom to the Marathas but later refused.
- The Nizam was given the districts of Gooty and Gurramkonda.
- The English took possession of Kanara, Wayanad, Coimbatore, Dwaraporam and Seringapatam.

- The new state of Mysore was handed over to the old Hindu dynasty (Wodeyars) under a minor ruler Krishnaraja III, who accepted the subsidiary alliance.
- In 1831, William Bentinck took control of Mysore on the grounds of misgovernance.
- In 1881, Lord Ripon restored the kingdom to its ruler.

Marathas

Anglo-Maratha Wars

First Anglo-Maratha War (1775-82)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Raghunath Rao had concluded the treaty of Surat with the English in 1775, agreeing to cede Salsette and Bassein in return for the post of Peshwa. British Calcutta Council condemned the Treaty of Surat (1775) and sent Colonel Upton to Pune to annul it and make a new treaty (Treaty of Purandar, 1776). In 1777, Nana Phadnavis violated his treaty by granting the French a port on the west coast. The English retaliated by sending a force towards Pune. Maratha army was commanded by Mahadji Sindhia (Also known as Mahadji Shinde). English signed the Treaty of Wadgaon that forced the Bombay government to relinquish all territories acquired by the English since 1775. Treaty of Salbai (1782) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Governor-General in Bengal rejected the Treaty of Wadgaon and sent a large force under Colonel Goddard. Sindhia proposed a new treaty b/w the Peshwa and the English, and the Treaty of Salbai

	was signed in May 1782. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The treaty guaranteed peace b/w the two sides for twenty years.
Second Anglo-Maratha War (1803-1805)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Peshwa Madhavrao Narayan committed suicide in 1795 and Bajirao II, son of Raghunathrao, became the Peshwa. On April 1, 1801, the Peshwa brutally murdered the brother of Jaswantrao Holkar, Vithuji. Bajirao II fled to Bassein, where, on December 31, 1802, he signed a treaty with the English.
Third Anglo-Maratha War (1817-19)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Pindaris were attached to Maratha armies as mercenaries could not get regular employment when Marathas became weak. They started plundering neighbouring territories, including those of the Company. The English charged the Marathas with giving shelter to the Pindaris. A repentant Bajirao II in 1817 rallied against the English. The Peshwa attacked the British Residency at Poona, and Appa Sahib of Nagpur attacked Nagpur. The English, striking back vigorously, succeeded in not allowing the Peshwa to exert his authority again on the Maratha confederacy. The Peshwa was defeated at Khirki, Bhonsle at Sitabuldi, & Holkar at Mahidpur. Some important treaties signed were: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> June 1817, Treaty of Poona, with Peshwa. November 1817, Treaty of Gwalior, with Sindhia. January 1818, Treaty of Mandsaur, with Holkar Peshwa was exiled to North India and territories were taken over by British

Punjab

Maharaja Ranjit Singh

- Son of Mahan Singh, the leader of the Sukarchakiya misl.
- Maharaja Ranjit Singh founded the Sikh Kingdom and became the Maharaja despite the monarchy not being sanctioned by the Sikh religion.
- Sikhs were temporarily united into a state which ruled from Kashmir in the north to Sindh in the south and Afghanistan in the north-west to Haryana in the east.

Treaty of Amritsar (1809)

- Ranjit Singh offered to accept Metcalf's proposal of an offensive and defensive alliance on the condition that the English would remain neutral in case of a Sikh-Afghan war However, the negotiations failed.

- To avoid Napoleonic danger, the English became more assertive, and Ranjit Singh signed the Treaty of Amritsar (April 25, 1809).
- Ranjit Singh's ambition to extend his rule over the entire Sikh nation was shattered by accepting the river Sutlej as the boundary line for his dominions and the Company's.
- In June 1838, Ranjit Singh was compelled by political compulsions to sign the Tripartite Treaty with the English; however he refused to give passage to the British army through his territories to attack Dost Mohammad, the Afghan Amir.
- Ranjit Singh died in June 1839 and with his death the process of the decline of his empire began.

Anglo-Sikh Wars

First Anglo-Sikh War (1845-46)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> First Anglo-Sikh war was attributed to the action of the Sikh army crossing the River Sutlej on December 11, 1845. English saw that step as an aggressive manoeuvre and declared war. War began in December 1845 under the Sikh commander Lal Singh. But the treachery of Lal Singh and Teja Singh caused five successive defeats to the Sikhs at Mudki (December 18, 1845), Ferozeshah (December 21-22, 1845), Buddelwal, Aliwal (January 28, 1846), and at Sobraon (February 10, 1846). Lahore fell to the British forces on February 20, 1846. Treaty of Lahore (March 8, 1846) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> >1 crore of rupees was to be given to the English. Jalandhar Doab (b/w Beas and Sutlej) was annexed to EIC's dominions. A British resident was to be established at Lahore under Henry Lawrence. The strength of the Sikh army was reduced. Daleep Singh was recognised as the ruler under Rani Jindan as regent and Lal Singh as wazir.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Kashmir, including Jammu was sold to Gulab Singh as Sikh didn't pay the complete war indemnity. ● A separate treaty formalised the transfer of Kashmir to Gulab Singh on March 16, 1846. Treaty of Bhairowal <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● In December, 1846, the Treaty of Bhairowal was signed. ● Rani Jindan was removed as regent and a council of regency for Punjab was set up. ● The council was presided over by the English Resident, Henry Lawrence.
Second Anglo-Sikh War (1848-49)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Inhuman treatment meted out to Rani Jindan, who was sent to Benares as a pensioner, added to the resentment of the Sikhs. ● Mulraj, the governor of Multan, revolted and murdered two English officers. ● Sher Singh joined Mulraj, leading to a mass uprising in Multan. ● Lord Dalhousie fought three important battles before the final annexation of Punjab. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Battle of Ramnagar, led by Sir Hugh Gough, the commander-in-chief of the Company. ○ Battle of Chillianwala, January, 1849. ○ Battle of Gujarat, February 21, 1849; the Sikh army surrendered at Rawalpindi, and their Afghan allies were chased out of India. (Gujarat is a small town on the banks of River Jhelum.)

British Policies of Expansion

1. Policy of Ring Fence

- Warren Hastings followed a policy to create buffer zones to defend the Company's frontiers.
- It was the policy of defence of their neighbours' frontiers for safeguarding their territories.
- The states brought under the ring-fence system were assured of military assistance against external aggression—but at their own expense.
- These allies were required to maintain subsidiary forces which were to be organised, equipped and commanded by the officers of the Company.

2. Policy of Subsidiary Alliance

- Introduced by: The subsidiary alliance system was used by Lord Wellesley.
- Subsidiary alliance system: Under the system, the allying Indian state rulers were compelled to accept the permanent stationing of a British force within his territory and to pay a subsidy for its maintenance.
- Indian rulers could not employ any European in their service without the prior approval of the British. Nor could negotiate with any other Indian ruler without the consultation of the governor-general.
- In return, the British would defend the ruler from his enemies and adopt a policy of non-interference in the internal matters of the allied state.

● Indian princes and States which Accepted Alliance

- Nizam of Hyderabad (September 1798 and 1800)
- Ruler of Mysore (1799)
- The ruler of Tanjore (October 1799)
- Nawab of Awadh (November 1801)
- Peshwa (December 1801)

Development of Education in India

- Warren Hastings established the Calcutta Madrasa in 1781 to study Muslim law and related subjects.
- The Sanskrit College was established by Jonathan Duncan at Benaras in 1791 for study of Hindu law and philosophy.
- Wellesley set up Fort William College in 1800 for the training of civil servants of the Company in the languages and customs of Indians (closed in 1802).

Charter Act of 1813

- Provided the initial push for the promotion of education in India
- Incorporated the principle of encouraging learned Indians and promoting the study of modern sciences in India
- The Act directed the English EIC to spend not <1 lakh rupees annually to promote education in India.
- The money was spent only in 1817 for providing a grant to establish Sanskrit College at Calcutta with the efforts of Raja Ram Mohan Roy
- Three other Sanskrit colleges were set up at Calcutta, Delhi, and Agra by the Government.

Lord Macaulay's Minute of 1835

- Lord Macaulay's Minute: "we must do our best to form a class of persons, Indians in blood and color but English in taste, opinion, morals, and intellect".
- He promoted the downward filtration theory in which a small number of educated Indians would transfer their knowledge of western education to the masses.
- Macaulay's minute focused on imparting western education to a small section of Indian society.

Wood's Dispatch on Education (1854)

- Popularly k/a Magna Carta of Indian Education.
- Advocated education for the masses, reversed the 'downward filtration theory', at least on paper.
- Emphasis was laid on vocational instruction and the need to set up technical schools and colleges
- It emphasized providing education to women
- Recommendations
 - Establishment of education departments in all the major provinces
 - Universities to be set up at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay.

- The Government would provide funding to private schools and colleges in form of grants.
- Creation of a new service called Indian Educational Service which would recruit teachers for government institutions all over India
- Vernacular or local language to be the medium of instruction at primary school, followed by Anglo-Vernacular High Schools, and English at higher education level (college).
- Education to be imparted in government institutions should be secular.
- Based on the recommendations of Wood's Despatch,
 - 1857: universities were set up at Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras.
 - Departments of education in all provinces were set up.
 - 1849: Bethune School (first women's school in India) was founded at Calcutta by J.E.D. Bethune.
 - Agriculture Institute at Pusa (Bihar) and an Engineering Institute at Roorkee were established.
 - Missionary enterprises played their part.

Hunter Commission (1882-83)

- 1882: under the chairmanship of W.W.Hunter
- Objective: To review education progress in India since Wood's Despatch of 1854.
- Focus: On primary and secondary education.
- Recommendations
 - Use of vernacular language for the spread of primary education along with the support of the state
 - Empowering the district and municipal boards to regulate and control primary education
 - Laid stress on women's education especially in rural areas
 - Efforts by private entities to be welcomed at all stages of education
 - High school education or secondary education to have two divisions—
 - Literary—leading up to university.
 - vocational—for career-making in commerce and industry
- Punjab University (1882) and Allahabad University (1887) were established as per the commission's recommendations.

Indian Universities Act, 1904 or Raleigh commission

- 1902: Raleigh Commission was appointed to look into the progress of University education in India.
- Indian members: Syed Hussain Bilgrami and Garudas Bannerjee
- Indian Universities Act of 1904 was passed:
 - Promotion of research and development in Universities
 - The number of fellows of a university was reduced and their period in office was reduced to six years with the Government nominating most of them.
 - The Governor-General was entrusted with the power to determine the territorial limits and the affiliation of Universities and Colleges.
 - A sum of five lakh rupees was to be sanctioned per annum for five years to improve higher education and universities.

Saddler University Commission (1917-19)

- Objective: To study and report on problems of Calcutta University, but review the entire field of education starting from school to university level.
- It emphasised improving education quality at the secondary level since it is a prerequisite to entering the University.

Hartog Committee (1929)

- To check the deteriorating quality of education due to an increase in schools and colleges.

Recommendations

- Emphasis to be placed on primary education for curing illiteracy, and the Government should focus on improving quality rather than quantity.
- Only deserving students should go in for high school and intermediate stage, while average students should be allowed to join vocational courses after VIII standards.
- Admissions should be restricted to improve the quality of education in Universities.

Wardha Scheme of Basic Education (1937)

- October 1937 (Wardha): Congress organized a National Conference on Education presided over by Gandhiji.
- Zakir Hussain committee: Formulated scheme for basic education based on the principle of “learning through activity”.
- The scheme was based on Gandhi's ideas published in the weekly Harijan.
- Provisions:
 - Inclusion of basic handicrafts and manual skills in the syllabus.
 - Free and compulsory education to all for the first seven years of schooling.

- Teaching to be in mother tongue along with Hindi from class II to VII and in English only after class VIII.
- Establishing contacts with the community around schools through service.
- The basic premise behind the scheme was that only through such a scheme would India be an independent and non-violent society.

Sergeant Plan of Education (1944)

- Sergeant was educational advisor to the Government and presented a comprehensive education plan.

Recommendations

- Free and compulsory education for all b/w 6-14 years
- Division of education
 - Pre-primary education: 3-6 years

Indigenous Efforts in Education

- Raja Ram Mohan Roy: First Indian to promote education on modern lines. Helped in passing the Charter Act of 1813.
- National Council of Education, 1906: Used as a hotbed for revolutionary activities during the Swadeshi movement.
- Establishment of Visva Bharati University at Shantiniketan in Bengal by Rabindranath Tagore.
- Establishment of Kashi Vidyapith at Benares, Gujarat Vidyapith at Ahmedabad, and Jamia Millia Islamia.
- The Nai-Talim scheme of Gandhiji focused on providing self-reliance to the students.

Development of Press

- Portuguese established the first printing press in Goa.
- The first book was published in 1557 by the Jesuits of Goa.
- The first newspaper of India, The Bengal Gazette, was published by James Augustus Hickey in 1780

Censorship of Press Act, 1799

- Enacted by Lord Wellesley.
- The act imposed almost wartime press restrictions including pre-censorship as it required the publisher to submit all material before printing and to print the name of the printer, editor, and proprietor.
- Violation of the act led to the immediate deportation of that person.
- 1807: Censorship was extended to journals, books, and pamphlets.
- These restrictions were relaxed under Lord Hastings and in 1818, pre-censorship was dispensed with.

Licensing Regulations of 1823

- Enacted by John Adams on the recommendations of Sir Thomas Munro
- As per this, printing a book without a license would invite a penalty of Rs. 400.
- No press could be established without obtaining a license.
- Magistrates were given the power to seal the presses that violated the rules and the Governor-General could cancel the license in case of violation.

- These restrictions were directed against vernacular newspapers.
- Eg: Rammohan Roy's paper Mirat-ul-Akbar had to stop publication as it violated the provisions of this act.

Licensing Act of 1857

- Enacted in the wake of the emergency caused by the Revolt of 1857
- The government had the power to grant or revoke licenses.
- The government reserved the right to stop the publication and circulation of any book, newspaper or printed matter.

Vernacular Press Act of 1878

- Introduced by Lord Lytton to curb the seditious writings in Vernacular literature.
- Also called the Gagging Act, it empowered DM to call upon the printer and publisher of any vernacular newspaper not to publish anything that would invite a feeling of disaffection against the government or antipathy b/w persons of different castes, races, and religions.
- Under this act, proceedings were initiated against some vernacular papers like Som Prakash, Bharat Mihir, Dacca Prakash, and Samachar. (Amrita Bazar Patrika turned overnight into an English newspaper to escape the provisions of this act.)
- 1882: Lord Ripon finally repealed the act.
- 1883: Surendranath Banerjea became the first Indian journalist to be imprisoned for an editorial in the Bengalee criticising a judge of Calcutta High Court.
- Tilak was arrested based on the publication of a poem, 'Shivaji's Utterances', in his paper Kesari.
- 1898: The government amended Section 124A and added another Section 153A in which anyone could be declared a criminal for bringing into contempt the Government of India or to create hatred among different classes and the English in India.

Indian Press (Emergency Powers) Act, 1931

- This Act aimed at curbing the Civil Disobedience Movement as it empowered police officers to arrest leaders and lathi-charge on masses for supporting the nationalist leaders.
- The provincial government was authorized to forfeit the security of the press in case of emergency (the security amount was raised to a minimum of 1000 and a maximum of 10000).
- The Act was empowered even more in 1932 to include all activities that undermined government authority.

CHAPTER

Revolt of 1857

Causes of Revolt of 1857

- The British expansion policy through the Doctrine of Lapse and direct annexation.
- 1849: Dalhousie announced that the successor of Bahadur Shah II would have to leave the Red Fort.
- Rani Lakshmi Bai's adopted son was not permitted to sit on the throne of Jhansi.
- Annexation of Awadh by Lord Dalhousie on the pretext of maladministration left thousands of nobles, officials, retainers, and soldiers jobless.
 - This measure converted Awadh, a loyal state, into a hotbed of discontent and intrigue.
- The sepoys also had religious or caste grievances of their own. The Indians of those days were very strict in observing caste rules, etc.
- The episode of greased cartridges was a big enough issue to start the rebellion on its own.
- Cartridges of the new Enfield rifle had a greased paper cover whose end had to be bitten off-before the cartridge was loaded into the rifle.
- The grease was in some instances made of beef and pig fat.
- This completely enraged the Hindu and Muslim sepoys.

Regional Leaders during the 1857 Revolt

Leader Name	Place of Revolt	Role Played in 1857 Revolt
Bakht Khan	Bareilly	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Bakht Khan: Led the revolt of the soldiers at Bareilly, arrived in Delhi on 3rd July, 1857. • Bakht Khan exercised real authority and he formed a Court of soldiers composed of both Hindu and Muslim rebels.
Nana Saheb and Tantya Tope	Kanpur	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nana Saheb, the adopted son of Peshwa Baji Rao II with the help of Tantya Tope. • They expelled the British from Kanpur and declared Nana Saheb as Peshwa, who acknowledged Bahadur Shah as the Emperor of India. • Tatya Tope was the great fighter who helped Rani Laxmi Bai to capture Gwalior. A friend betrayed Tatya Tope and he was imprisoned and later hanged in Shivpuri. • Nana Saheb was believed to have escaped to Nepal by 1859.
Begum Hazrat Mahal	Lucknow	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Begum of Awadh provided the leadership and proclaimed her son, Birjis Kadr, as the Nawab of Awadh. • During the revolt she worked with Nana Saheb, Tantia Tope, etc. against the Britishers. • She fought as long as she could and finally found asylum in Nepal, where she died in 1879.
Rani Lakshmi Bai	Jhansi	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • She was against the Policy of Doctrine of Lapse and fought for her adopted son to the throne of Jhansi. • March 1858: British forces attacked Jhansi; Laxmibai escaped from the fort with her son. • She fled to Kalpi, where she joined Tatya Tope. • Together, they captured Gwalior. But the British gained the upper hand yet again. • June 17, 1858: During the fighting at Kotah-ki-Serai, five miles southeast of Gwalior, the Rani, dressed in male attire, was shot at and fell from her horse and died.
Kunwar Singh	Arrah, Bihar	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Most representative and outstanding leader of Arrah, Bihar. • Under his leadership the military and civil rebellion were so completely fused that the British dreaded him most. • March 1858: Kunwar Singh occupied Azamgarh. Pursued by Brigadier Douglas, he retreated towards his home arrah. • 23rd April 1858: He fought bravely and drove away the British Army. But due to injuries encountered in a fight he soon died on 26 April 1858.
Shah Mal	Baghpat, Uttar Pradesh	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Organised the headmen and peasants of 84 villages (referred as chaurasi desh), marching at night from village to village, urging people to rebel against the British hegemony. • He established a "hall of justice", resolving disputes and dispensing judgments. • July 185:, Shah Mal was killed by an English officer, Dunlap.

British Army Officials Associated with Revolt

General John Nicholson	Captured Delhi on 20th September 1857 (Nicholson died soon due to a mortal wound received during the fighting).
Major Hudson	Killed Bahadur Shah's sons and grandsons in Delhi.
Sir Hugh Wheeler	Defense against Nana Sahib's forces till 26th June 1857. British forces surrendered on 27th on the promise of safe conduct to Allahabad.
General Neil	Recaptured Banaras and Allahabad in June 1857. At Kanpur, he killed Indians as revenge against the killing of English by Nana Sahib's forces. Died at Lucknow while fighting against the rebels.
Sir Colin Campbell	Final recovery of Kanpur on 6th December, 1857. Final reoccupation of Lucknow on 21 st March, 1858. Recapture of Bareilly on 5th May, 1858.

William Taylor and Eye	Suppressed the revolt at Arrah in August 1857.
Hugh Rose	Suppressed the revolt at Jhansi and recaptured Gwalior on 20th June, 1858. The whole of Central India and Bundelkhand was brought under British control by him.
Colonel Ocell	Captured Banaras

Popular Movements Against the British Rule

Sanyasi Rebellion (1770-1820s)

- Sanyasis: Local wanderers, paid visits to pilgrim centers in North Bengal and collected alms from local zamindars and others as their source of livelihood.
- Cause: Restrictions on their movement by the British as they considered the Sanyasis religious barbaric vagabonds who needed to be curtailed and civilized.
 - Disastrous famine of 1770 and demand for increased revenue taxes from the zamindars.
- Response: Sanyasis revolted against the British and were joined by small zamindars, disbanded soldiers, and rural poor.
- A novel called "Anandamath" by Bankim Chandra Chattopadhyay is based on the Sanyasi Revolt.

Fakir Uprising (Bengal, 1776-77)

- Fakirs: Muslim religious mendicants who just like Sanyasis made their living out of alms and offerings.
- Cause and Response: They too had to face similar problems like the Sanyasis and thus they stood up in revolt under the leadership of Majnum Shah (or Majnu Shah).
- Leaders: Chirag Ali, Musa Shah, Bhawani Pathak, and Debi Chaudhurani.
- Devi Chaudhurani: novel by Bankim Chandra Chattopadhyay highlighted the importance of women in the revolt.

Pagal Panthis (1813-1833)

- The Pagal Panthi: A semi-religious sect mainly constituting the Hajong and Garo tribes of Mymensingh district (earlier in Bengal), was founded by Karam Shah in North Bengal.
- Cause: Karam Shah's son, Tipu Shah, took the cause of distressed peasants and organized them to fight the oppression of the zamindars.
- Response: b/w 1825 to 1835, refused to pay rent and attacked the houses of zamindars.

Narkelberia Uprising (1831)

- Considered as the first armed peasant uprising against the British.
- Leaders: Mir Nithar Ali or Titu Mir led the uprising in 1831 against the zamindars and British colonial authorities.

- Cause: The uprising was also directed against the Hindu landlords, who imposed a beard tax on the Faraizis.
- Response: soon took on a religious hue and was later merged into the Wahabi movement.

Wahabi Movement (1830s- 1850s)

- An Islamic revivalist movement was initiated by Syed Ahmed of Rai Bareilly. The movement was centered around Patna in Bihar.
- Cause: The movement to convert Dar-ul-Harb (the land of Kafirs) to Dar-ul-Islam (the land of Islam).
- Response: The movement declared a jihad against the Sikh kingdom of Punjab.
- 1849: The British annexed Punjab, the Wahabis targeted their attack on the colonial rulers.
- 1860: The British carried out a series of military attacks on the Wahabi base in Sithana, and cases of sedition were launched against the leaders.

Kuka Movement (1854-72)

- Leader: Bhagat JawaharMal (also called Sian Saheb) laid the foundation of the Kuka Movement in 1840 in western Punjab.
- Baba Ram Singh: Another major leader founded the Namdhari Sikh sect.
- Kukas boycotted British education, products, and laws by wearing only white, hand-woven clothing.
- Ram Singh was captured and deported to Rangoon in 1872.

Poligar Rebellion (1795-1805)

- The poligars (or palayakkarargal): The influential landlord class in South India, provided military service to the EIC and collected taxes from the cultivators.
- Cause: British began interfering in the matter of revenue collection which led to resentment among the poligars.
- Response: Poligars rose in revolt against the Company and the main centers of these sporadic uprisings were Tinneveli, Ramanathapuram, Sivaganga, Sivagiri, Madurai, and North Arcot.
- First poligar war: 1799 when Poligars under the leadership of Veerapandiya Kattabomman of Panchalankurichi in Tirunelveli district of Tamil Nadu raised the banner of revolt.

- Result: The Company emerged victorious in the battle
- Second poligar war (1800-01):
 - Company defeated the combined forces of the alliance and brought Tamil Nadu under its control.
- 1803: Poligars of North Arcot rose in rebellion, on deprivation of their right to collect kaval fees.
- 1805: poligar system came to an end, and in its place, the company introduced the zamindari system.

Vellore Mutiny (1806)

- The sepoys serving East India's Company army rose in revolt in 1806 at Vellore.
- Cause: Racial antagonism faced by Indian sepoys and the introduction of a European turban by Lord William Bentick.
- Response: The rebels, while revolting, unfurled Tipu Sultan's tiger-striped flag and declared Futteh Hyder, Tipu's first son as the new ruler.

Paika Rebellion (1817)

- The Paiks of Odisha: Traditional landed militia ('foot soldiers' literally) who were engaged in various services under the Gajapati rulers of Odisha.

- They enjoyed rent-free lands in place of their military service.
- In 1803, the Company conquered Odisha and dethroned the Raja of Khurda
- Cause: An increase in the price of salt due to the imposition of salt tax, abolition of cowrie currency, and the requirement of payment of taxes in silver, etc. created resentment among the masses.
- Response: Bakshi Jagabandhu Bidyadhar, the military chief of the kingdom of Khurda organized an army of Paikas against the British.
- In 1825, Bakshi jagabandhu was finally arrested and imprisoned and he died in captivity in 1829.

Ramosi uprising (1822-26)

- Ramosis: Hill tribes of western ghats who served the Marathas and were assigned lower ranks in police and army.
- Cause: The enhanced land revenue and harsh revenue collection methods led to the revolt in and around Satara (Maharashtra) under the leadership of Chittur Singh.
- Response: They attacked forts and plundered the regions around Deccan forcing the Government to reconcile with them.

Peasant Movements

Indigo Revolt (1859-60)

- Peasants were forced to enter into fraudulent contracts, which were then used against them.
- The revolt started from Govindpur village in Nadia district of Bengal in 1859 when Digambar Biswas and Bishnu Biswas decided not to grow indigo, resisted the attack of lathiyals (retainers), refused to pay the rents, and went on strike against the arbitrary policies.
- Bengali intelligentsia played a significant role by organizing campaigns, mass meetings in support of the peasants' cause.
- An indigo commission was appointed by Government to inquire problem of indigo cultivation.
- Based on the Commission's recommendations, a notification was issued in 1860, according to which ryots could not be forced to grow indigo and that all disputes were to be settled by legal means.
- After the notification, the indigo workshops were shut off by the planters, and indigo cultivation was virtually wiped out from Bengal by the end of 1860.

- Neel Darpan was written by Din Bandhu Mitra. It portrayed the oppression of the indigo farmers.
- The editor of the paper Hindu Patriot, Harish Chandra Mukherjee published reports on the indigo campaign and organized meetings to raise awareness about the revolt.

Pabna Unrest (1870s-1880s)

- Pabna: Region in Eastern Bengal was famous for growing jute.
- During the 1870s and 1880s, the zamindars of Pabna created agrarian unrest by demanding enhanced rents beyond legal limits and prevented the tenants from acquiring occupancy rights under Act X of 1859.
- Unrest continued till 1885
- Bengal Tenancy Act 1885: Defined the rights of the zamindars as well as the tenants.

- Important leaders: Bankim Chandra Chatterjee, R.C. Dutta, and the Indian Association.

Deccan Riots (1874-75)

- Due to American Civil War in 1864, Indian jute and cotton textiles demand increased.
- The government increased the land revenue by 50% in 1867 instead of reducing it.
- In 1874, a social boycott of money lenders and their associates was organised by the ryots.

Kisan Sabha Movement (1920s)

- Cultivators were subjected to high rents, bedakhali, illegal levies, nazrana.
- A hike in food prices and other necessities was witnessed after the First World War which worsened the conditions of the UP peasants.
- Efforts by Home Rule activists led to establishment of Kisan sabhas in Northern India.
 - United Provinces Kisan Sabha was set up in February 1918 by Gauri Shankar Mishra and Indra Narayan Dwivedi with the support of Madan Mohan Malaviya.
 - Other prominent leaders: Jhinguri Singh, Durgapal Singh, and Baba Ramchandra.
 - 1920: The Awadh Kisan Sabha was established.
 - The movement declined soon because of the passing of the Awadh Rent (Amendment) Act of 1921.

Eka Movement or the Unity Movement (1921)

- Started: Hardoi, Bahraich and Sitapur in 1921.
- Against: Thekedars (contractors).
- Leader: Madari Pasi and witnessed the participation of lower castes like the Pasi community, other low-caste leaders, and many small zamindars.
- March 1922: The movement began to decline due to severe repression by the authorities.

Mappila Revolt (1921)

- The Mappilas were the Muslim tenants who rose in revolt against the Hindu landlords and the British revenue officials in 1921.

- Issues: Lack of security of tenure, high rents, renewal fees, and oppressive exactions.
- The Mappila movement merged with the ongoing Khilafat agitation.
- August 1921: Ali Musaliar, a respected priest leader was arrested which sparked off large-scale riots.
- In retaliation, the Mapillas targeted the symbols of British authority like the courts, police stations, treasuries and offices, and unpopular landlords
- British declared martial law which led to widespread rebellion.
- The revolt ended by December 1921 due to the communalization of the rebellion which in turn isolated the Mappilas from the Khilafat-Non-Cooperation Movement.

Bardoli Satyagraha (1928)

- Started in January 1926 because of an increase in the land revenue by 30% at the time of bad harvest due to famine in 1925.
- A Bardoli Inquiry Committee (by congress): found the revenue hike to be unjust.
- In February 1926: Vallabhbhai Patel was called to lead the movement by Gujarati activists- Narhari Parekh, Ravi Shanker Vyas, and Mohanlal Pandya.
- A no-tax revenue movement: Launched on 4th February 1928 under the leadership of Patel.
- Bardoli Satyagraha Patrika was brought out to mobilize public opinion on the matter.
- K.M. Munshi and Lalji Naranji resigned from Bombay Legislative Council.
- Gandhiji reached Bardoli to stand by in case of any emergency.
- The Government was forced to appoint a committee to look into the matter.
- The committee found the revenue hike to be unjust and recommended a rise of 6.03% only.
- The government then cut down the revenue demand, abandoned the revision of taxes temporarily, and returned the lands thus confiscated to the original owners.

- Vallabhbhai Patel was conferred the title of "Sardar" by Gandhiji.

All India Kisan Sabha Congress

- Established: 1936, at Lucknow session of INC, with Sahajanand as its first president
- Also known as 'Akhil Bhartiya Kisan Sabha.'
- Secretary: NG Ranga.
- Objectives:
 - To abolish the Zamindari system,
 - To reduce land revenue,
 - To institutionalize credit
- May 1942, CPI took over All India Kisan Sabha all across the country.
- There are two organisations at present working under the name AIKS (following the split of Communist Party of India in 1964):
 - All India Kisan Sabha – Communist Party of India's Peasant Wing
 - All India Kisan Sabha – Communist Party of India-Marxist's Peasant Front; aka All India Kisan Sabha (36 Canning Lane)

Telangana Movement (1946-48)

- The ruling class of Telangana i.e., the Deshmukhs, Reddys, Doras, and Jagirdars actively exploited the peasants in forms of forced labor (vethi) and illegal extractions.
- Immediate cause: Murder of a village militant in Jalgaon taluq of Nalgonda in July 1946 by a retainer of Deshmukh.
- The movement intensified b/w August 1947 and September 1948.
- The peasants brought about a rout of the Razaqars— the Nizam's stormtroopers and the movement was brutally crushed once the Indian security forces took over Hyderabad after the independence.
